ENFORCEMENT DRY LAW "TOUGHEST" OF PROPOSITIONS

No Men in Government Employ Ever Against Worse, Official Declares.

FACE WORST OF CROOKS

Appropriation of $7,000,000 Asked For Year But House Members See Total Of $9,000,000 Necessary; Bone Dry Country Far in the Future.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Revenue officers under the Volstead Act "are up against the toughest proposition any men were ever against," according to Paul Myers, assistant commissioner of internal revenue, whose testimony before the House Appropriations committee was made public today.

Discussing the need of a big force with which to go after bootleggers Myers declared it was a "tough proposition" because they were dealing with the worst element of crooks in the country.

It developed at the hearing that the bureau would need about $7,000,000 for the next year for prohibition enforcement. Members insisted that with a deficiency to be taken care of later the amount would reach $9,000,000.

Based on figures of September 30 Commissioner Williams said at the investigation that there were 48,000,000 gallons of liquor in government warehouses and that it was being withdrawn at the rate of 4,000,000 gallons a month. The commissioner declined to venture an opinion as to how long it would be before the country was bone dry.

NEW TRIAL ASKED

Court Erred, Claim of Counsel for Convicted Liquor Men.

Alleging that the court erred four times during the trial of Francis Szpakowski and Jess Monko, found guilty last week of violating the Brooks high license law at the Republic hotel, attorneys for the defendants have filed a motion for an arrest of judgment and for a new trial for the defendants.

In the motion it is alleged that the court erred in overruling the objections of the defendants to the trial of the case at the time; second, the court erred in answering the several points of the defendants which were not affirmed; third, the court erred in not instructing the jury more specifically on Szpakowski's alibi and, fourth, the court erred in refusing the defendant's motion to withdraw a juror and continue the case because of improper remarks of counsel. The improper remark was, "It is no wonder we have persons burning down school houses if such crimes as these are allowed to go unpunished," and later another statement which referred to the "ingenious defense" of the defendants.

SCRIBES AWAIT AIRMEN

No Further News from Balloonists in Canadian Wilds.

By Associated Press.

COCHRANE, Ont., Jan. 6—Newspaper correspondents here are finding it as difficult to locate the three American naval balloonists on land as it was in the air before they descended on the icy shores of Hudson bay. The correspondents, rushing here from the United States prepared to rush north to meet the returning aviators, have found themselves puzzled as to which trail to select. At present the newspapermen are camping in their special train, uncertain whether to order it to Mattle, where the balloonists may arrive, or remain in the town into which runs a train to Moose Factory.

The temperature, which has been exceptionally mild for this region, dropped during the night and thermometers this morning registered 8 degrees below zero. Ten inches of fresh snow covered the trail from Moose Factory.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, Jan. 6.—An ordinance prohibiting the carrying of firearms or other deadly weapons in the borough and making violation punishable by a fine of $50 was adopted by town council last night.

UNIONTOWN AND GREENSBURG COAL GOING RAPIDLY

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—Pennsylvania's anthracite coal supply will last about 150 years. The bituminous coal in the Pittsburg bed will be exhausted in 80 years and in the Greensburg and Uniontown basins in 35 years at the present rate of mining, according to Dr. George H. Ashley, state geologist, who has just finished a study of the coal situation. All of the coal, however, will not be mined for hundreds of years but only the thin beds will be left in a century.

Dr. Ashley estimates that originally Pennsylvania had 3.71 per cent of all the coal in the country, or 112 billion tons of bituminous and 21 billion tons of anthracite. Close to six billion tons of anthracite have been mined or made unworkable, the same being true of the soft coal.

It is estimated there are about eight billion tons of recoverable coal in the Pittsburg district.

The anthracite is being mined at the rate of 80,000,000 tons a year and bituminous at the rate of 170,000,000 tons.

PET DOG UNDOING OF BOYS WHO ENTER CANDY STORE; MISS $2,000

Canine Remains on Scene, Waiting for Lads; License Tag on Collar Does Rest.

When Paul Fike and Theodore Brooks, 15 and 16 years, respectively, are alleged to have broken into the Cohen's warehouse and Fayette Candy company store in Uniontown early yesterday morning they overlooked a safe which contained $2,000 in currency. Their arrest was brought about by a pet shepherd dog, the property of a family residing near where one of the boys makes his home.

Both boys were accorded a preliminary hearing before Alderman John W. Darby and were committed to the county jail. Both Fike and Brooks were on parole from the county court.

When police began their investigation they found the dog which had accompanied the boys on their mission still on duty. He had refused to leave the warehouse. The dog had a license tag on his neck. This was examined carefully and found to be the property of a man residing near the Fike home, it is said.

EXHIBITS AT FARM PRODUCTS SHOW WILL BE JUDGED JAN. 13

Nicholas Schmitz of State College to Be in Charge, With Someone to Assist.

Exhibits at the Fayette County Farm Products show, which will be held in Uniontown January 12, 13 and 14, will be judged Thursday morning, January 13. Nicholas Schmitz of State college is the senior judge and will probably have someone to assist him.

A large share of the value of the show results in watching the judge make the placements. By thus observing the important characteristics which go to make up an exhibit can readily be seen. This offers a fine opportunity to learn what constitutes a desirable ear of corn, a good apple, or good salable vegetables. Reasons will be given for the placements of each class and the privilege of asking questions is encouraged.

KEPHART'S NAME IS MENTIONED FOR NEW STATE OFFICE

May Be Named Head of Department to Handle Trust Funds.

$43,000,000 ON DEPOSIT

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6 - One of the recommendations Governor Sproul will make to the General Assembly in his forthcoming message will concern an important change in the administration of the fiscal affairs of Pennsylvania—the creation of a new office whose incumbent will handle the trust funds of the state. There is now on deposit with the state treasurer $43,866,191.62 in securities which represent investments of various trusts and funds. They are now handled by the state treasurer, along with the regular work of his department. The governor's plan is to separate this function from the other duties of the state treasurer and create an official position which shall be in charge of this money.

It has not been decided who shall be appointed if the Assembly falls in with the scheme. Several names are talked of. Among them is that of Harmon M. Kephart of Connellsville, state treasurer. Credence is lent to the theory he may be appointed by the fact that he retires from office as treasurer next May. However, it is rumored that Kephart is to make a connection with one of the largest banking houses in the western section of the state as soon as he retires from office and if that arrangement is made he will not be available for the proposed new post in the state government.

The trust funds administered by various departments of the state government have been growing in recent years. In the beginning they were unimportant part of the state treasurer's duties, but they have outgrown their original scope until they represent a complicated problem.

Stand Is Taken by British Cabinet in Favor of This Requirement of Germany.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—Great Britain and France are in close accord relative to the subjects of disarmament and reparation, says the London correspondent of the Matin, in discussing the meeting of the Allied premiers here January 19. Newspapers here, in commenting on the conference, express the belief that a complete agreement will be quickly reached and there is no doubt that England shares the view of France relative to the disarmament question.

SLEEPERS AT CITY HALL INDICATION OF DEPRESSION

Six Accommodated By Police Over Night; After Lapse of Years.

USUALLY OUT OF FUNDS

Fear of Being Arrested Leads Them to Avoid Riding Freight Trains, One Walking From Pittsburg to Philadelphia, Be Informed the Police.

Sleepers or "night lodgers" who request shelter at the city hall, are again coming into evidence after an almost continued absence of two or three years. There were six "guests" given beds in the cell room last night, and for the past several weeks there have been a few dropping in practically every night.

Chief of Police Thomas McDonald said today that some of the men who ask for lodging at the city hall are without funds. A number of them say they have gone for days without eating. One said he had walked from Pittsburg. He was afraid to ride on freight trains because of the activities of the railroad officers, he told the chief. Trespassers have been getting 60 and 90-day sentences to the county jail.

The man got a job through the Red Cross. He was on his way to his home in Philadelphia. He told the chief he expected to walk the entire distance.

LARGER HOUSE THAN FIRST NIGHT SEES LEGION "FOLLIES"

Committee in Charge Not Yet in Position to Announce Net Returns From Benefit.

The favorable reports of the Legion "Follies" which followed the first performance given on Tesday evening resulted in even a larger house for the second show last night, and even the Legion men say they were better.

Every seat for the play had previously been sold and every inch of standing room was disposed of by the time the curtain rose. The play was acclaimed the best affair of the kind ever put on by home talent in this city.

Financially, also, the show was successful. Members of the Legion were delighted with the results. Considerable money was cleared, it was stated, although no approximate sum could be named today.

There was one change in the personnel of the cast last night. Mrs. Elizabeth Mae Brown Critchfield appeared in place of Mrs. R. O. Neid, who was absent on account of the death of a brother, Alphonsus Callahan. Miss Brown sang "Give Me All of You Dear," with Frank Wright impersonating a light haired soprano.

The finance committee today requested that any person having tickets unsold, or money which has not yet been turned in, to check up with Roy S. Trenberth at the Colonial National bank. The committee desires to have all money and tickets in before Saturday so that the finances of the play may be closed as soon as possible.

COMMITTEE CUTS $23,700,000 FROM SALARY MEASURE

House Appropriations' Budget $5,729,000 Below That For Current Year.

THOUSANDS ARE AFFECTED

As One Means of Reducing War-time Expense, Paring of Stipends of 12,183 Persons Recommended; Raising Urged With Regard to Bonuses.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—The legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill, the big salary measure reported out today by the House Appropriations committee, carried a total of $112,726,438 or $33,724,106 less than departments asked for and $5,728,771 below the amount appropriated for the current year.

As an indication of war-time increase the bills total in 1916 was $36,613,709, but as one means of cutting expenses the committee lopped off salaries for 12,183 employes in the District of Columbia. An appropriation of $10,000,000 was recommended for the Bureau of Internal Revenue to be used largely in enforcement of prohibition.

The largest cut in appropriations for departments, as compared with those of last year, were:

Treasury, $6,906,611; Department of Commerce, $3,807,250; War Department, $2,927,870; Navy Department, $382,770.

The sub-committee estimated that an additional $15,000,000 would be saved if Congress followed the recommendation of the sub-committee that the $240 annual bonus granted federal employes not apply in the case of employes whose pay is adjusted by the wage board in accord with commercial rates paid locally for the same class of service.

The sub-committee explained that the excess of $75,704,969 in the present bill over that for the fiscal year 1916 resulted largely from federal activities growing out of the war.

I must make it my duty to see that schools and churches teach first of all good citizenship."

FAVORITE WINTER RECIPES.

For those who find it necessary to serve meat substitutes, the following is worth trying:

Cottage Cheese Loaf.—Take one cupful of cooked kidney beans, one cupful of cottage cheese, one cupful of ground peanuts, one tablespoonful of chopped onion, one tablespoonful of butter, one cupful each of strained tomato and bread crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Combine the ingredients, form into a roll. Brush with melted fat and bake in a moderate oven for a half hour.

Cottage Cheese Pie.—Take one cupful of cottage cheese, two-thirds of a cupful of maple sirup, two-thirds of a cupful of milk, the yolks of two eggs, well beaten; two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, salt and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Mix in the order given and bake the pie in one crust. Cool slightly, cover with a meringue and brown in a slow oven.

Raisin Paste.—Put two cupfuls of raisins, washed and dried, through a meat grinder; add one-half cupful of orange juice, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of nut meats, ground, or half a cupful of peanut butter. Mix until smooth, pack into jelly glasses and cover. It will keep a long time and is delicious for sandwiches.

Gluten Muffins.—Take two cupfuls of gluten flour, two cupfuls of milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one well beaten egg, mix the dry ingredients, stir in the beaten eggs and milk. Beat thoroughly together and half fill well buttered gem pans. Bake 20 minutes.

Fried Rice.—Take six cupfuls of cooked rice, one cupful of cold roast pork, chopped, two onions and tops, chopped, two tablespoonfuls of fat, one tablespoonful of salt, two eggs. Add the salt to the fat; heat; add the meat and onion. Let fry a few minutes; add rice; mix well and when thoroughly heated add the eggs whole; stir well; cook until the eggs are set, and serve at once.

BAILS SELF OUT OF JAIL

But Atlanta Man Finds It Good Refuge on Cold Night, and Returns.

W. T. Boswell, forty-eight, evidently believes the Atlanta police station is a good refuge on a cold night, even with its ordinary inconveniences.

When found intoxicated in the streets, Boswell was locked in a cell, with furnace heat and blankered cot. At the end of two hours he put up $5 collateral and asked to be released.

It may have been the cold wind that came whistling around the corner of the police station or it may have been the long tiresome trip home that discouraged him. At any rate, he turned back.

"I ain't right yet, gentlemen," he said, as he displayed all the symptoms of a drunk on the police station steps. "My head's thick as crab grass under the edge of the farm porch. Give me back my $5 and let me stay two more hours."

His money was refunded and he was given a bed for the night.

FOR BUSY LITTLE FOLK

The quaint fashion of pinafores is revived in many ways. Here, a pink and white barred linon has baby ducks embroidered on the shallow yoke of it. The apron, as one can see, is tied at the sides with sashes of the same material—a pretty fashion that any small person would like.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HUNSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

Leaking of Water Mains Believed Due to Electrolysis and Conference Will Be Held With West Penn: Numerous Matters Disposed of at Session

Special to The Courier

SCOTTDALE Jan 6—At a meeting of town council Monday evening Street Commissioner F M Newcomer tendered his resignation in order that he may have more time to devote to personal affairs and Ben Gibson borough engineer was delegated to look after the work of the commissioner, giving all his time in January February and March and five hours a day the remainder of the year He will receive a salary of $100 a month as street commissioner

An important matter considered by the solons was the leaking of water lines in Broadway Whether it is the action of the electric current from the West Penn lines or other cause that is giving the borough trouble there is doubt The street committee was instructed to have a conference with West Penn officials

Bills were ordered paid Receipts for the month from the burgess were $212.6", from J S Kuhns weighmaster, $94 20, from F T Newcomer garbage, $36, Broadway National bank $105 54 Louis Cramer paving $112 87, taxes $1 777 90

A F Myers' term as a member of the board of health expired and he was reappointed for five years

The Citizens Water company called attention to the fire hydrants within the borough limits having been flushed and tested to ascertain that they were in good working condition for winter use There will be no necessity for anyone without permission, except in the case of fire to open hydrants The water company deemed it advisable to notify all employes of the borough and the public in general that to open a fire plug without the proper authority is punishable by law

Notice was given council that Walter Haines had been elected fire chief and Frank Wise assistant chief This was ratified by council

The method of looking after the fire trucks the past year was not very satisfactory and it was decided to change back to the old order and give G W Carroll a contract for looking after the trucks and having a man at the borough building at night for $110 per month

One of those tales which appeal to the quality in man and woman that finds stories of human contest with the wild forces of nature so enthralling Possessing a high degree of literary merit it is being hailed as the modern classic of its type.

Zane Grey says:

"The Voice of the Pack is clean, fine, raw, bold, primitive, and has a wonderfully haunting quality in the repeated wolf-note"

The New York Times says:

"The Voice of the Pack contains an intimate and detailed knowledge of the Oregon woods that makes the novel fascinating The story in the main is a woodman idyl, rich in poetic fancy and throbbing with a reverent love for a nature which is unspeakably wonderful both in its majesty and in its all-pervading hospitality."

The Chicago Daily News says:

"Taken all around 'The Voice of the Pack' is the best of the stories about wild life that has come out in many, many moons."

SQUARE DEAL FOR THE POOR.

Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

It is a pleasure to record the noble sentiment that actuated the New York State Boxing Commission in framing rules for governance of public exhibitions of the indispensable and elevating art of self-defense.

Unrestricted private management of pugilism has proved promotive of grave evils. A spirit of selfishness has grown up among the devotees of fistana. Money hunger has overtaken the bruisers and this reprehensible passion has been communicated to their managers. The latter, aforetime noted for their public spirit and self-sacrificing solicitude for the uplifting of the masses of the common people have, nevertheless, been constrained much against their principles by the greed of the stars of the "stables" to exact from the sport-loving exorbitant sums for the privilege of witnessing the delectable "shows." Naturally this hug caused a rift most undesirable between the two great divisions of the population—those who can pay any gold price to see a prizefight and those who cannot pay so much without depriving the baby of its bottle-filling.

This will not do for we have already, goodness knows, too many classes. First thing you know, if the common people can't raise the wind when the championship of the East Side or the near-championship of Hoboken is to be settled we shall find the better element despising the others, which would be a melancholy state of affairs. The Constitution guarantees certain inalienable rights, among which is the pursuit of happiness, and what greater happiness is imaginable than seeing the claret reservoir scientifically tapped? As an arm of the government sworn to uphold the Constitution the Boxing Commission could not, without being derelict, fail to take cognizance of the tendency to destroy our prized social solidarity and provide a remedy. Moved, therefore, by concern for the rights of those of slender means but aspirations for intellectual and spiritual improvement no less respectable than those distinguishing the plethoric of purse, it has exercised its authority and sharply cut the prices for seats at "championship boxing contests" to $15 as the maximum and for "ordinary boute" to $10.

This, we take it, is a solar plexus blow to greed in its worst manifestation. Likewise, it affords a demonstration of governmental concern for the welfare of the poor and humble that should go a long way toward reviving confidence that exploiting of the masses by the classes will be stopped. If it does not put the red agitators out of business we don't know what degree of paternalism will.

THE PUBLIC MAY BALK.

Pittsburg Dispatch.

The proposition of the Philadelphia Health Council and Tuberculosis committee that if every child were in good physical condition when he enters school there would be much less worry and loss of time for child, parent and schools is excellent, but has the misfortune to solicit popular cooperation at a time when the disadvantages of paternalism are receiving as much consideration as gains from that source. The benefits from better health among children of school age may be conceded without indorsing the claimed superiority of medical or civic paternalism which apparently seeks to displace parental influences and limitations. Medical examinations have already made considerable inroads into the public schools without conferring the advantages held out as inducement for consent for further extensions. They should prove their case before asking additional privilege, although promoting the health of children is a duty which must command the respect of everyone.

The proposal of the Philadelphia Health Council to make medical examinations of that city's children just approaching school age has the weakness of seeming to take over the care of little ones without due consideration of that obligation in parentage which has been one of the standards of American domestic life. There is no fault to find with the American domestic life. There is no fault to find with the end sought, but there may be something said regarding the means. To turn public schools into clinics is giving a twist to the educational system which may fail to receive popular approval. American parents may want their education kept separate from medical treatments.

Gifts (not for service rendered) and money and property acquired under a will or by inheritance is exempt. The income derived from money, property, gifts, will or inheritance is taxable and must be reported.

Penalties Are Severe.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse and any person who fails to file a return of taxable net income is subject to a fine of not more than $1,000, and, in addition, 50 per cent of the amount of the tax due.

Penalty for filing a false or fraudulent return a fine not exceeding $10,000, or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and, in addition, 50 per cent of the tax evaded.

The aggregate amount however, of such contributions or gifts so deducted should not exceed 15 per cent of your taxable net income.

Filing Returns.

Return for calendar year 1920 must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which you live or you have your principal place of business, on or before March 15 1921.

The tax may be paid in full at time of filing return, or in two, three or four equal installments, as follows

25 per cent at time of filing return
25 per cent on June 15, 1921
25 per cent on September 15, 1921
25 per cent on December 15, 1921

The Tax

On net income up to $4,000, after the personal exemption is deducted, the rate is four per cent.

On net income over $4,000, after the personal exemption is deducted, the rate is eight per cent.

Persons whose income exceeds $5,000, in addition to the normal tax must pay an additional tax called surtax.

Report Must Be Filed.

Some persons are under the impression they are not required to file a return where the personal exemption exceeds the net income. This is erroneous. If you are married and your net income exceeds $2,000, you are required to file a return. If you do not you are subject to a fine and penalty.

Strive To Have Healthy Skin

Next time you are in a gathering of women note the different conditions apparent in complexion. You will see some filled with blackheads, some dry and rough, some smooth and greasy, some smeared with rouge, some streaked with heavy metallic powders and once in a while you will see one that is a demonstration of intelligence from every point of view. The color is rosy, the skin is clear and smooth, the pores are small and open, the powder does not show on the firm vigorous skin. Every woman can have a good complexion if she will only use a little discretion. If you would acquire real beauty, the beauty of perfect health, you must replenish your worn-out nerves with lecithin, Nature's own nerve restorer, and put into your blood the invigorating iron which Nature intended it to have for health. In most of the modern foods these and other vitalizing elements have been largely eliminated. Yet to be healthy and beautiful the system must have them. They are found in Bio-feren, not only in proper proportions to restore weakened vitality but in such form as the system can best assimilate them.

A treatment of lecithin and iron peptonate as combined in Bio-feren increases the appetite, aids nutrition and invigorates the patient.

And Bio-feren in its pellet form is easy and palatable to take—no liquid nor disagreeable medicine to swallow.

Bio-feren on the system is so beneficial, we are so sure of its giving you positive health and vigor, by providing, of course, there is no serious chronic ailment such as cancer, tuberculosis, etc., that we only sell it on the condition that you agree to return the empty package and accept a refund of your money unless you are entirely satisfied.

There is no use waiting for health and beauty. It is better to do things today than tomorrow. Go to your physician today—right now—he will advise Bio-feren. Then start taking it at once as he advises or as directions on the package call for. The Guarantee protects your money. Interesting booklet may be had for the asking.

Large package $1.00 at all leading druggists or direct if your druggist can not supply you. The Sentanel Remedies Co. Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio.

A Princess of Mars

(Copyright, 1920, A. C. McClurg & Co.)

This was my opportunity and slim as it appeared I grasped it for as a number of soldiers came hurrying past my hiding place I fell in behind them and followed through the mazes of the palace until, in passing through a great hall, I saw the blessed light of day coming in through a series of larger windows

Here I left my guides and slipping to the nearest window sought for an avenue of escape The windows opened upon a great balcony which overlooked one of the broad avenues of Zodanga The ground was about thirty feet below and at a like distance from the building was a wall fully twenty feet high, constructed of polished glass about a foot in thickness To a red Martian escape by this path would have appeared impossible but to me with my earthly strength and agility it seemed already accomplished My only fear was in being detected before darkness fell for I could not make the leap in broad daylight while the court below and the avenue beyond were crowded with Zodangans

Accordingly I searched for a hiding place and finally found one by accident, inside a huge hanging ornament which hung from the ceiling of the hall, and about ten feet from the floor Into the capacious bowl like vase I sprang with ease and scarcely had I settled down within it than I heard a number of people enter the apartment The group stopped beneath my hiding place and I could plainly overhear their every word.

"It is the work of Heliumites," said one of the men.

"Yes, O Jeddak, but how had they access to the palace? We shall soon know, however, for here comes the royal psychologist."

Another man now joined the group and, after making his formal greetings to his ruler, said:

"O mighty Jeddak, it is a strange tale I read in the dead minds of your faithful guardsmen. They were felled not by a number of fighting men, but by a single opponent."

He paused to let the full weight of this announcement impress his hearers, and that his statement was scarcely credited was evidenced by the impatient exclamation of incredulity which escaped the lips of Than Kosis.

"Where is my erstwhile savior?" spoke another of the party, and I recognised the voice of the cousin of Than Kosis, whom I had rescued from the green warriors "By the metal of my first ancestor" he went on "but the description fits him to perfection, especially as to his fighting ability"

"Where is this man?" cried Than Kosis. "Have him brought to me at once."

Word was soon brought that I was nowhere to be found, either in the palace or at my former quarters in the barracks of the air scout squadron. Kantos Kan they had found and questioned, but he knew nothing of my whereabouts, and as to my past, he had told them he knew as little, since he had but recently met me during our captivity among the Warhoons.

"Keep your eyes on this other one," commanded Than Kosis. "He also is a stranger and likely as not they both hail from Helium, and where one is we shall sooner or later find the other."

Another messenger now entered with word that I was still within the palace walls.

"The likeness of every person who has entered or left the palace grounds today has been carefully examined," concluded the fellow, "and not one approaches the likeness of this new padwar of the Guards, other than that which was recorded of him at the time he entered."

"Then we will have him shortly," commented Than Kosis contentedly, "and in the meanwhile we will repair to the apartments of the princess of Helium and question her in regard to the affair. She may know more than she cared to divulge to you, Notan Come'

They left the hall, and as darkness had fallen without, I slipped lightly from my hiding place and hastened to the balcony. Few were in sight and choosing a moment when none seemed near I sprang quickly to the top of the glass wall and from there to the avenue beyond the palace grounds

CHAPTER XV.

Lost in the Sky

Without effort at concealment I hastened to the vicinity of our quarters, where I felt sure I should find Kantos Kan He was alone and showed no surprise at my coming saying he had expected me much earlier, as my tour of duty must have ended some time since

I saw that he knew nothing of the events of the day at the palace and when I had enlightened him he was all excitement The news that Dejah Thoris had promised her hand to Sab Than filled him with dismay

It cannot be ' he exclaimed 'It is impossible! Why no man in all Helium but would prefer death to the selling of our loved princess to the ruling house of Zodanga, She must have lost her mind to have assented to such an atrocious bargain What can be done John Carter? You are a resourceful man Can you not think of some way to save Helium from this disgrace?

"If I can come within sword's reach of Sab Than" I answered, "I can solve the difficulty in so far as Helium is concerned, but for personal reasons I would prefer that another struck the blow that frees Dejah Thoris"

Kantos Kan eyed me narrowly before he spoke

'You love her!" he said 'Does she know it?

She knows it Kantos Kan and repulses me only because she is promised to Sab Than'

The splendid fellow sprang to his feet and grasping me by the shoulder raised his sword on high exclaiming

And had the choice been left to me I could not have chosen a more fitting mate for the first princess of Barsoom! Here is my hand upon your shoulder, John Carter and my word that Sab Than shall go out at the point of my sword for the sake of my love for Helium for Dejah Thoris and for you This very night I shall try to reach his quarters in the palace

"I only need to pass these guards and I can do it I know a secret entrance to the palace through the pinnacle of the highest tower I fell upon it by chance one day as I was passing above the palace on patrol duty If I can reach the roof of the barracks and get my machine I can be in Sab Than's quarters in five minutes but how am I to escape from this building guarded as you say it is?"

'Go to the roof of this building, Kantos Kan, and wait me there'

Without stopping to explain my plans I retraced my way to the street and hastened to the barracks I did not dare to enter the building, filled as it was with members of the air-scout squadron, who, in common with all Zodanga were on the lookout for me

The building was an enormous one rearing its lofty head fully a thousand feet into the air It was a long climb up the face of the building, but there was no other way and so I essayed the task The fact that Barsoomian architecture is extremely ornate made the feat much simpler than I had anticipated, since I found ornamental ledges and projections which fairly formed a perfect ladder for me all the way to the eaves of the building Here I met my first real obstacle The eaves projected nearly twenty feet from the wall to which I clung, and though I encircled the great building I could find no opening through them

There was one slight, desperate chance and that I decided I must take —it was for Dejah Thoris, and no man has lived who would not risk a thousand deaths for such as she

Clinging to the wall with my feet and one hand I unloosened one of the long leather straps of my trappings at the end of which dangled a great hook by which air sailors are hung to the sides and bottoms of their craft for various purposes of repair, and by means of which landing parties are lowered to the ground from the battleships.

I swung this hook cautiously to the roof several times before it finally found lodgment; gently I pulled on it to strengthen its hold, but whether it would bear the weight of my body I did not know. It might be barely caught upon the very outer verge of the roof, so that as my body swung out at the end of the strap it would slip off and launch me to the pavement a thousand feet below

For a Persistent Cough.

"Some years ago H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for a long while with a persistent cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised he concluded to try it. "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the small size was permanently cured."—Adv.

SPRAYING OLD ORCHARDS BRINGS GREAT RESULTS

Many Fayette county farmers can profit by the experience of two Carbon countians who had to go to their neighbors to obtain their family apple supply. Both had ancient apple orchards on their farms which they counted as so much dead wood. But last spring they were persuaded to use the ordinary sprays for the control of insect pests and diseases. As a result, A. M. Diehl harvested a crop of 1,850 bushels from a fair sized orchard, and C. A. Senatnger marketed 950 bushels of first-class apples from a 50-year-old orchard.

Another carbon county farmer, Q. E. Hahn of East Mauch Chunk, had an orchard that was 35 years old with a five-year average yield of only 125 bushels. He also sprayed and gathered 2,250 bushels of 95 per cent perfect apples which netted him a clear profit of almost $2,000. Professor H. E. Hodgkiss of State college, plant insect specialist, asserts that there is much money to be obtained from old Pennsylvania orchards, and in the near future will be able to announce the results of similar experiments conducted last year in 25 orchards in 12 counties.

DILL'S DIGESTERS

A SUFFERER FROM GENERAL DEBILITY TRIED HYPO-COD AND VERY QUICKLY HELPED

Appetite, Digestion Good; Strength Has Returned. Sleeps Good Again.

COUGH AND COLD ALSO LEFT HER

"I suffered from general debility and a rundown condition. My symptoms were somewhat varied. I took cold easily, in fact, I nearly always had a cold. My stomach was out of order a great deal—this affected my liver and I would get dizzy spells and spots would come before my eyes. I was very nervous, my nerves were in such a condition that I could not sleep and I rarely got a good night's rest. My back hurt. I had pains across my side. My appetite was poor and what I did eat gave me very little strength. I was weak and tired all the time.

"I feel like a different woman since I began to use Earle's Hypo-Cod. It has benefitted me wonderfully. I have now used three bottles of Hypo-Cod and my appetite has come back. I sleep good and get up rested and refreshed in the morning. My strength has increased and I seem to be gaining every day. The pains in my back and side have gone and that is certainly some relief. My nerves are stronger. My stomach rarely gives me any trouble now and I can eat most anything that is good to eat without it hurting me. I have no more dizzy spells, my color has improved. The cold and cough and kindred symptoms have disappeared and I don't seem to be so susceptible to colds as I was.

"I give Hypo-Cod all the credit for my improved condition. I have nothing but the highest praise for this sterling remedy. I believe it will benefit anyone in a rundown condition," declared Grace Furley, S. Harrison Ave., Chambersburg, Pa.

People who have coughs and colds are weak, rundown. They are in prime condition to catch even more serious sickness. They should at once rid their system of the congestion, cough and cold and then fortify and increase their disease resisting vitality. Everyone should take a tonic at this season of the year. Sickness is too expensive. Drop in at the drug store tonight and take a bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod home with you.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.— Adv.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder Is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in urine so-it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advd.

If it does the work for others as it did for me you ought not to be backward about any case of stomach ulcers. I have now taken 12 bottles and my stomach is in perfect condition. I feel better and weigh more than I have for 16 years, and I have had stomach trouble all of that time."—L. S. Walker, Greenleaf, Kan.
